The ILSNA annual conference provides you with an opportunity to:

- network with your peers
- learn new and emerging methods
- visit the premiere Industry Trade Show
- earn continuing education credits!
On behalf of the Illinois School Nutrition Association I would like to invite you to attend our 63rd Annual Conference “Rise and Shine” on June 26th - 28th at the Tinley Park Convention Center, Tinley Park, IL. The conference planning committee has worked very hard to provide attendees with three days of excellent educational sessions, networking opportunities and the annual industry exhibits that provide school nutrition professionals with the latest products, equipment and supplies.

Attendees may want to register for one of several pre-conference opportunities. Options include a tour of a dairy farm, the 5 hour Sanitation Refresher Course, Nutrition 101, sitting for the School Nutrition Specialist (SNS) Credentialing exam or a Cooking Competition with teams representing Illinois schools.

Educational sessions and culinary demonstrations will focus on the key areas for professional development: Operations, Nutrition, Administration and Communications/Marketing! General session speakers include Allen Klein, who will share with us strategies on using humor to tackle change, Jeff Joiner, who will focus on teamwork motivation, and Mark Haller, the Illinois State Director who will update all attendees on ISBE activities.

A great opportunity for networking is one of the many reasons to plan to attend ILSNA’s Annual Conference! Talking and sharing ideas with other school nutrition professionals helps to improve all school meal programs across the state. The conference will begin on Wednesday afternoon with few educational sessions and ending with a good ole’ fashioned ‘down on the farm’ country dinner and dance. Thursday will start with a light continental breakfast and several educational sessions followed by the industry exhibits. This year, there will also be culinary demonstrations during the exhibit time. Finally, that evening will be the installation dinner banquet, with Leah Schmidt, SNA President Elect, followed by entertainment. And if that is not enough, start off your Friday with the ILSNA Business Meeting and breakfast with educational sessions to follow. The conference will wrap up on Friday afternoon with the farewell luncheon. All sessions, meals, exhibits and entertainment are included in the registration fees. Please mark your calendar and plan to attend this year’s Conference. As a school nutrition professional, you will gain a wealth of information, network with colleagues, and have a great time!

Dress is "Business Casual" for Conference. Photos will be taken throughout the conference. If you do not want your photo to be used in any ILSNA publications, please let staff know of your request at the registration desk.

In support of the School Nutrition Foundation (SNF) and the No Kid Hungry Illinois Campaign of Share Our Strength, a basket auction will be held. Please plan to bring a basket filled with items of your choice to assist these worthy foundations. The theme this year will be “Rise and Shine”. Have fun with creating your basket, the possibilities are endless.

Register today to qualify for the early-bird rate, registration must be completed by May 31st, 2013. After May 31st registration rates will increase.

We look forward to seeing you in Tinley Park.

Roxanne Ramage, ILSNA Vice President and 2013 Conference Chair
Continuing Education

ILSNA is a recognized Continuing Education provider through the School Nutrition Association, conference participants can earn Key Area Program Hours (KA) and Continuing Education Units (CEU) during the three days of education sessions that are being offered.

Key Hours and CEUs are listed adjacent to the sessions they apply to.

Certification

SNA’s Certification Program is based on the standards of practice and indicators in the Keys to Excellence in School Food and Nutrition Programs that define nationally accepted standards for quality programs. There are three levels of Certification through SNA all with specific requirements. ILSNA is helping you on your road to achieving these certifications by including Key Area Credits during the 2013 Annual Conference. For those already certified, continuing education units (CEU) will be earned to assist with your annual certification renewal. Dairy Farm Tour

All in a Day’s Work - Fair Oaks Farm, Fair Oaks, IN
Yep, it's a real place - it's a real, family-owned heartland dairy located in Northwest Indiana just outside of Chicago. One of the largest dairies in the country, their doors are open to families, schools, truckers and travelers alike - we want everyone to see how we operate and taste what we produce.

Owned and operated by a group of dairy farming families, they work hard to combine the time-honored traditional values of caring for the land, treating their cows well, and providing their talented employees with a positive and rewarding work environment. Their focus on innovative and sustainable farming is rooted in our desire to create the most pure, nutritious and delicious dairy products you’ve ever tasted, without wasting natural resources to do so.

Make our working dairy farm your adventure! Enjoy an up-close, fun-filled experience while learning about how we closely monitor and care for every step of the dairy production process. The family-friendly atmosphere of Fair Oaks Farms offers something for everybody. We go out of our way to make sure that we satisfy your hunger for information, fun and delicious grilled cheese sandwiches.

Here at Fair Oaks Farms, we offer you the opportunity to really see and experience all aspects of milk production, including a behind-the-scenes look at where it all really starts! About 80 calves are born at Fair Oaks Farms every day, and we make it possible for you to view one of these real and extraordinary events in our state-of-the-art Birthing Barn!

Sit back and relax in the theater-like atmosphere of the Birthing Barn and you’ll witness a one-of-a-kind experience that you’ll be talking about for years to come: the birth of a calf! A Fair Oaks Farms expert is always on hand to explain what is happening, and to give Mother Nature a hand when needed. And if you’re really lucky, you may just witness something even more rare and beautiful: Twins!

Illinois Chop-ed Competition

Teams of cafeteria staff members will compete for prizes and bragging rights. The teams will be presented with a mystery basket full of ingredients donated by sponsors and then challenged to make lunch suitable for an elementary school menu or a secondary school menu.

The meals will be judged on presentation, taste and the team's work habits!

If your school is interested in participating in the CHOP-ED Competition, please click the box or contact the ILSNA office at 217-529-6578 to receive a team registration form.

SNS Exam

SNA established the School Nutrition Specialist (SNS) Credentialing Program in 1997 to enhance the professional image of school nutrition professionals, elevate professional standards and enhance individual performance.

The SNS Credential is a mark of excellence and achievement that reflects what it takes to manage school nutrition programs in today’s challenging climate. The SNS Credentialing Exam evaluates candidates’ knowledge and skills required to perform specific job activities related to managing or directing school nutrition programs.

To sit for the exam, please make sure that you meet the SNS eligibility requirements, complete application form through SNA and pay registration fees to SNA ($175.00 members rate/$270.00 non/member rate) Registration start date is April 27, 2013 and registration deadline is June 5, 2013.

NOTE: The current SNS exam does not include questions pertaining to the new USDA meal pattern standards.

Bridging Generations at Work, Ingrid Markwort, Workplace Solutions
1 Administration KA, 1 CEU
Four generations inhabit today’s workplace. Traditionalists (born 1900-1945), Baby Boomers (born 1946-1964), Generation X (born 1965-1980) and Millennials (born 1981-1999) all grew up with different influences, events, challenges and accomplishments. Differing perspectives can lead to confusion and communication disconnects in the workplace. At the same time everyone strives for some common goals, such as work/life balance, the importance of family life and a dislike of rapid-fire change. This workshop is designed to help you leverage generational knowledge to better understand one another and to more effectively serve your customers and clients.

Building an Extraordinary Team: How Teamwork Makes the Dream Work, Jeff Joiner, Joiner Enterprises, 1 Administration KA, 1 CEU

Let The Play Begin, Allen Klein, “Mr. Jollytologist”
1 Administration KA, 1 CEU
“We live in an ironic society where even play is turned into work,” says theologian Conrad Hyers. “But the highest existence is not work; the highest level of existence is play. “With interactive-audience exercises, this program will demonstrate that “higher level of existence” by demonstrating how play can help you solve problems, enhance your creativity, and reframe your stress.

Becoming a Person of Possibility, Paul Pyrz
1 Administration KA, 1 CEU
Quite often we go through our daily tasks with no passion, purpose, or excitement. Many times there are good reasons for this; however, it doesn’t have to be that way. We have the ability to become a person of possibility and radiate that possibility to others we work with. It all starts from within by doing some inner work to get connected to our core and what makes us truly happy. In this session, we will take some time to explore how we can become a person of possibility and help those around us do the same.

Navigating Your Way Through the Food Pyramid Buying Guide, Samia Hamden
1 Nutrition KA, 1 CEU
The new meal patterns are in effect which means new foods and new ways to credit them. Come learn how to navigate the Food Buying Guide. This session will empower you to make purchasing and menu planning decisions based on information you can find at your fingertips.
